“Archimedes was inspired by the accomplishments of great men. As one of our finest achievements, this wine represents our passionate dedication to the craft of great wine making and honors of a memory of a dear Coppola family member.” - Francis F. Coppola

Colour Notes

Dense, inky purple.

Aroma Notes

The initial perfume is redolent of baked boysenberries, violets, and Mexican cocoa. As the wine opens up, red fruits begin to emerge along with notes of anise and smoky oak.

Palate Notes

Extracted and textural on the palate with ample tannin structure. Lush, spicy flavors of blackberries, black plums, and currants are accented by mineral expressions of graphite. This vintage is a true beauty, complex and dramatic with great length.

Robert Parker's The Wine Advocate

92+ POINTS

Deep garnet in color, the 2014 Cabernet Sauvignon Archimedes offers pronounced cassis, crushed blueberries and cedar notes with hints of bay leaves, eucalyptus and chocolate box. Medium-bodied, the palate leads with a firm structure of chewy tannins and just enough acidity, supporting tightly wound, muscular fruit and finishing taut yet promising. I've been conservative with my scoring, given that it is still very youthful and relatively ungingiving on the palate.

Wine Enthusiast

91 POINTS

With 21% Malbec, this is a robustly impressive wine, smoky in oak, with teases of brick, cola and baked plum. Softly plush, it offers lasting acidity and freshness within a context of ripe power.

Wine Spectator

90 POINTS

Though rustic and chewy, with firm, dusty tannins, there's also a measure of finesse and harmony here, taming the wild side while also allowing this assertive style make its case. Notes of dusty herb, dried berry and anise are complex.
